Hi Matt

Sorry for the delay with your project, the process improvements took significantly longer to implement than initially anticipated and are running a few weeks behind schedule. We have your samples in are production lab and will have an updated timeline to send along early next week.

Thanks
Jim

Hi Jim and Caroline, just checking in on the status of the ant sequences.

Happy Solstice by the way! Hope you're both getting out of the lab a bit and enjoying the sunshine.
